Opis projektu:

INTRO:

Racism is an ideology which, based on the postulate of the existence of human races, considers that certain races are intrinsically superior to others. This ideology can lead to an attitude of hostility or systematic sympathy towards a particular category of people. It concerns behaviors, words or practices that disadvantage some people because of their color, culture or ethnic origin.

Fighting racism requires a strong political will, affirmed at the highest level of the state and leaves all the institutions of proximity. This issue needs to be widely debated and explained in all spheres of society, in schools, colleges and universities, in the world of sport and in companies, associations, professional circles and family units. Racism is a parasite that proliferates and feeds on times of crisis, which generates violence, massacres. It is during these difficult times that blindness, insanity and stupidity take precedence over the good sense of the human being.

Today, our continent is traversed by this scourge with the rise of the extreme right and political parties of nationalist and racist obedience. Racism is no longer a question of racial superiority, but the anxiety we feel about another person who is different and who we can not understand. Contempt and exclusion are the result of this anxiety that turns into outright rejection. In all states, all origins, all beliefs and cultures are affected. Each of us is an actor and a victim of racism, consciously or not. This project is designed to educate and train youth workers on a delicate and very sensitive issue so that they respond in a pedagogical way to young people on this issue and that they are resources for them in terms of information, awareness and actions. The response to racism can be achieved through various means by understanding racism, discrimination, and moving from prejudice to discrimination. Understand that racism is a crime severely punishable by law as is discrimination.

Understand how to act when witnessed or victim of racist or discriminatory acts. It will also enable us to train and promote the organization of working groups and support the actors in the implementation of concrete, feasible and efficient mechanisms. Stages, concrete case studies, simulations and testimonials will be on the menu during this training for an exchange of good practices.

OBJECTIVES:

During this project, our association the FNAFA and the other partners, set themselves as objectives:- Raise interest in human rights and issues of racism.- Develop tools and skills for democratic participation, communication and cooperation.- Empower youth workers in the fight against racism- Promote responsibility, justice and solidarity.- Development of a policy for the management of racist incidents at school (or in a club or organization).- Establish a social network to enable the different actors of activities, confronted with these remarks, to be able to act and implement mechanisms to prevent or correct the effects threatening social cohesion and thus contribute to the preservation of a civic space without racism.

The ultimate objective of this training is to bring out a shared strategy for preventing and combating the expression of racism, in order to facilitate access to the rights of victims and to reduce the racist expression and make it intolerable in the society. The project will take place in Noisy-le-Grand from 02 to 10 December 2019 with the participation of 23 participants.
